TWM Trivia - The Fertilizer Factory

This aerial view of the Knapp's Narrows shows the Tilghman Reduction Plant, better known as "the Fertilizer Factory" or "Skunk House." Built in 1948 by the Tilghman Packing Company it processed fish oils and fish meal from the trimmings of the seafood packed at the Avalon plant (now the clubhouse at TOC). When the wind blew in a certain direction the whole Island smelled, hence the nickname "Skunk House." The plant is now known as the Tilghman Island Inn. The Tilghman Watermen's Museum celebrates, documents, preserves and shares the history, traditions, heritage and culture of Tilghman Island.
