The Sherwood Seminar start the Christmas season early this year! On Tuesday, December 6, talented local artists will perform and then lead us in Caroling. During this time of harvesting and giving, it is important that we increase our awareness of food insecurities in our own community. Susan Roecker, coordinator of Tilghman Helping Hands, which includes the Tilghman Food Pantry, will join us to share how their programs are working to meet the needs of local residents and explain what we can do to help with these initiatives. We can begin by bringing NON FOOD items to contribute to their efforts. They need toilet paper, tissues, soap, toothpaste, shampoo and non-grain dog food. You can also contribute by bringing your favorite Christmas cookies to share. Social time begins at 6:30 PM with the program starting at 7:00 at the Sherwood Hall on Sherwood Landing Road.
